

InOne – Company Background

With the largest number of experienced local consultants across Europe, InOne offers clients an efficient roll out of your JD Edwards software solution – with just one cont(r)act.

InOne Globally – local!

InOne was established in 1999 by the formation of leading JD Edwards partners across Europe into a unique pan-European business partnership, in direct response to clients request's for a one-stop choice for international projects in the JD Edwards system environment.

Drawing from our unique and specialised knowledge which began right at the start of JD Edwards entry into Europe back in 1989, and from over 300 projects that we have since completed in Europe, means that we have gained vast experience that in Europe gives InOne an unparalleled JD Edwards knowledge base that exceeds 1,500 man years of know how in dealing with the many challenges faced by clients from this type of project.

InOne supplies crucial, consistent IT support, in dealing with the many differences between one country and another, whether your company is a large corporation or an SME. Multinational enterprises will recognise the many advantages and benefits that working with a single IT services provider across Europe can bring.

Key company values are the delivery of high quality solutions, incorporating leading edge functionality from the JD Edwards software, delivered through a partnership approach with our customers, and backed by unrivalled implementation and consultancy experience.

Our strategy is to continually invest in the partnership with Oracle, to recruit and develop quality people; deliver a value-added implementation methodology and maintain strong service capabilities to ensure long-term relationships with our customers. We focus on providing solutions and services that deliver competitive advantage, enabling our customers to conduct and adapt their businesses, to remain agile, economic and effective, against a background of constant market pressure to reduce costs, improve quality, and deliver better service.

If you would like to talk to us about our skills and experiences, please Email us at Info@InOne-Europe.com.